DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1, 7 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Carringer et al (6,820,630).

The Carringer et al reference discloses a valve assembly comprising: a flush valve body 18 having opposite sides separated by a movable gate 50; an inlet pipe component 12 rotatably coupled to a first side of the flush valve body 18; a source of drain fluid (not shown) detachably coupled to the inlet pipe component 12; and the inlet pipe component being an elbow joint of 45- degree shape adapted to rotate 360 degrees with respect to the flush valve body.

Although the Carringer et al reference does not disclose the inlet pipe component composed of a transparent material permitting visual observation of the fluid introduced to the valve body, attention is directed to the Rome et al reference which discloses an elbow pipe 106 or 108 made of a transparent material.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to employ an elbow of Carringer et al valve assembly made of transparent material in view of the teaching of Rome et al for facilitating inspecting or view the fluid inside the valve assembly.

Regarding claim 7, the introductory statement and all other functional statements of the intended use have been carefully considered but deemed not to impose any structural limitations on the claim(s) distinguishable over the valve assembly device of Carringer et al which is capable of being used with a recreational vehicle.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 2-6, 9 and 10 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
4. Claims 11-13 are allowed.

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Milano, Jr. et al and Walker teaches a valve assembly.
